Smash Hard, Laugh Harder: Friendly Rivalry at MOAB
At MOAB MCP, high-stakes tactical plays and dramatic dice rolls go hand in hand. As every comic book fan knows, the best battles aren't fought out of malice—they're fought out of friendly competition.

Think of Thor and Hulk. They can hurl each other through skyscraper walls, trade planet-shattering punches, and debate who is really the "strongest Avenger" all day long. Yet at the end of the brawl, they're still side-by-side on the same team, grabbing a bite and laughing off the bruises.

WE PLAY FOR FUN!

TABLE SETUP

Both players will be designated a table to play their round game at. The table will include a balance of terrain that can be moved with approval from both you and your opponent.

A designated side section keeps your character and team tactics cards visible to all players.

Each table includes a double-sided dice tray so both players can easily see every roll.

You may use your own tray if your opponent agrees, as long as it's placed in the same central spot.

This setup ensures fairness and keeps dice results clear for everyone.

FAQS

Q. What do I need?

Everything you need to play! Bring your models, dice, Character cards, Tactics Cards, Crisis Cards, Measuring widgets and probably some super glue.

Q. What releases are allowed?

1. If you own the official model and it is on the official affiliation list you can use it.
2. Reworked Character Cards, Tactics Cards and Crisis Cards may be printed, but please try and bring official.

Q. Are miniature Proxies allowed?

Please see the challenger rules. Any further questions please contact lachlan@d3-events.com

Q. Do I need to use fully painted models?

No, but it's strongly encouraged - we want to dazzle anyone walking by and convince them they want to play this amazing game - also there will be painting prizes and you will only be eligible if your entire (official miniature) roster is painted.

Q. What happens if I concede my game?

You forfeit points you could score that game.

Q. What happens if my opponent and I don't finish our game?

You will be given a 15-minute warning that the game is going to end, at this point carefully consider whether you should start your last round or conclude the round you are on. Work with your opponent to submit your scores. Please call over a TO if you need any assistance in submitting scores.
